

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of corporate abuse of power.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. Isn't the blatantly partisan showing of a smear piece against one candidate against federal election law? Should any one person or company have this much autonomy with the PUBLIC airwaves? This is just more of what's good for the bottom line and less of what we need for our democracy.

Sinclair's plans demand FCC scrutiny and action before they commit this travesty, not just a slap on the wrist after the fact. Thank you.
